FELIX RAFAEL D. DE GUZMAN

Cum Laude IT graduate and front-end developer with over 2 years of experience in software development and UI/UX design. I take projects from the design stage all the way to a live, working product. I built websites and front-end features for an Australian SaaS platform used by real estate agencies, working with Django (Python), ReactJS, and Wagtail CMS. Today I build WordPress, Shopify, and Duda sites/e-commerce stores for small businesses, using AI tools for automation to speed up the workflow when needed.

INDUSTRY EXPERIENCE

Web Developer (AI Specialist) - Sites n Stores

January 2026 - Present

- Designed, built, and launched websites as well as e-commerce stores on WordPress, Shopify, OpenCart, and Duda for Australian small-business clients in a fast-paced agency setting.
- Use AI coding tools (Claude, Perplexity) daily to speed up development, research solutions, and debug faster, then review and test every change before release.
- Add features and fix bugs on legacy and live production sites using PHP (WordPress, Laravel), Shopify Liquid, ReactJS, and JavaScript, testing on staging first to avoid downtime.
- Improve page speed (Core Web Vitals) and on-page SEO, and write site content that helps clients rank higher on Google.
- Handle QA, site updates, and hosting (WP Engine, Kinsta, Plesk), and work with the team daily through standups and Monday.com.

Frontend Developer - WebIT+ListOnce

October 2024 - December 2025

- Drove front-end work on responsive web apps for multiple Australian real estate clients using Django templates, SCSS, and ReactJS.
- Created prototypes and user journey maps for UI/UX design, then worked closely with clients to refine and validate designs.
- Built and customized Wagtail CMS templates and Django views, including front-end API integration, PostgreSQL, and Docker.
- Handled QA and Jira ticketing, from triaging and resolving client requests to larger tasks, browser tests, bug logs, and Git/Bitbucket.
- Led the end-to-end front-end rebuild of a client website, turning UI/UX mockups into production and coordinating updates with stakeholders.

Freelance Developer/Content Writer - Upwork

February 2022 - October 2024

- Conducted UI/UX design that fits client branding and user needs.
- Wrote content for websites, optimizing for SEO and user engagement.
- Delivered visually striking landing pages that enhanced brand visibility.

Full-Stack Developer Intern - MVP Asia Pacific

January - May 2023

- Underwent multiple development cycles for various projects
- Collaborated daily with the team for progress assessment and mentorship.
- Maintained and updated legacy code for the backend.
